

Omni Three

From one; that divides into three. A wisdom. A force. A spirit.

Wisdom comes from, a pursued idea. That through experience, all knowledge gained, enables good judgement.

This allows a focused force. To become everlasting. To manifest energy. The realization of any vision, unbiased with authority. No matter the period.

Proving a life force, or spirit. In endless harmony with God the Maker, and with nature. And with other life forms.

Omniscient Wisdom

All knowing. All wise. All seeing.

How does an entity have complete, unlimited knowledge, and understands all. Is all wise. And has discernment, above all. All seeing. And is aware of everything.

Other than a presence from the beginning. Consecrated as the source, of things made. The entirety of existences. The sum of all.

Should I venture the descriptive, give theory, and reason. Since our creation is to likeness, and image. Of the Supreme, The Grand Architect, or Maker God.

Having a long list of names. Given though the ages, by humankind.

The greatest love. Or, is it?

So, humankind, has given, an evocative name, monotheism. Amongst other such names. And descriptions.

To an exclusive one deity. That describes a singular existence, that began all, is encompassing, and is complete.

Yet additional, we describe the inclusive, and pluriform of monotheism, in which there are godly or multiple forms recognised. Each postulated as, an extension of the same monotheistic God.

This is how humankind, deciphers, orders, describes, and keeps record of such. By means of a storyline. That brings with, strong images, emotions, and feelings.

It is our cope, and understand mechanism, that gives the mind its capacity, and developed intelligence.

The theory is as follows. The Supreme and Almighty Omniscient God. A monotheistic God. Started from absolutely nothing, with an idea. A vision to make nature, that is independently able to create, after its own image and likeness. Evolve intellectually, progressing, and then to change into a higher version, of self. And be creative, within the realm, of everything made. Both in a determine lifespan capacity, and in a limitless force.

Having a set period, to achieve such. In a determine lifespan. A growth, a development, and experience of self, continues. Confined to principle, change, cycle, and a timeline, amongst other such.

Giving purpose, vision, and some form of haste, within a natural lifespan. On many levels, sectors, and across some distance. Born to pass on, into the next realm. That, extends beyond a determine lifespan, into a limitless capacity.

Humankind's, higher purpose of this, is to assist with nature, as its keeper, and nurture. And become part of the progressive force. That can birth itself into nature again, many times over, and drive evolution. From whence our species came. Accumulating the next, needed code, sequence, and encryption.

And to help navigate, all energy, all particle, all matter, progressively. So, all have purpose. In the complexity of nature, within their levels of existence. Encouraging growth, in the ever-expanding, changing, and developing universe.

So, a very small part of the Grand Architects design, illuminates our existence. And enlists, the essence, the soul, and spirit of all. In the nurture, up-keep, change, evolution, and continuance of nature.

Yet, we are an inclusive minuscule part of, the greater scheme of all nature. Designed around the same blueprint. Our reason is interdependent, and nature itself, restores balance, through time. Lest we forget.

However, this Infinite Wisdom, does not consecrate the whole, of God. It is merely a distinctive part of. God the Maker. An Omniscient Supreme God.

Omnipotent Force

Everlasting. Sovereign. All powerful. Unlimited. Influence.

A force is that which, has a broad defined outline. A force is an influence, driven by an energy. Protons, particle, or matter, are observable. Observed to be independent, and all present, even on the smallest microscopic level.

Yet, when we observe their function, and behaviour. We see a sovereign influence, that drives this minute solar system.

A know fact in Quantum Mechanics.

This energy, is, defined as, an Actionable Force. That birthed itself into nature, at the event of the "Big Bangs". And now forms part of nature. From a limited lifespan to; an everlasting capacity.

This strategy now creates a sovereign force. An established domain over all nature. An everlasting Maker God. A force, that drives all energy. All proton, all particle, all matter; as such.

By default, this establishment of an Actionable Force, becomes all powerful, since there is none other, to our knowledge. And to which we, and many incalculable multiply-zillions of more, are part of. Beyond measure, and quantification.

This Actionable Force is now an unlimited resource, made on demand, for many different applications.

The influence of this force, over nature, and each part, drives selective, independent, and collective, form and state.

Such, is the defined purpose of the Actionable Force. An energy to influence, to drive all proton, all particle, and all matter. The principle, the control, the timespan over all nature.

This is the element that drives, all proton, particle, and matter, being dual in nature. The element of this force, exists, and is present in everything, no matter the microscopic size.

The function of this force is to bring into existence, expand, diminish, reduce, repurpose, or recycle. Or, return everything to its original source. Particle, that can change its state into an energy, and into matter. And vice versa. Either in a separate, or combined, or unified state.

Driven by the characteristic dual, of a push and pull force. That creates this environment for function, dependence, and re-action. That exists across great distance.

We observe, the principles of this force, fixed, separate, and independent. With an influence. From which none can err. Not of man, or controlled by man, or by which man has dominion over, ever. Yet, to which man can consciously align himself, by choice. And should. We can only recognise, having had a minuscule glimpse at it, and stand in awe, by its presence. The presence, the fabric, the expanse, the existence of space, from which particle, matter, and energy originate.

However, the Actionable Force, does not consecrate the whole, of the Maker God. It is merely a distinctive part of. An Omnipotent God, a Grand Architect.

Omnipresent Spirit

Widely, or constantly encountered, common, or widespread

Only through, the essence of a spirit, can any observe; or acknowledge, a presence. Over a wide, or large, area or range. Being, widely everywhere is another matter, entirely. Extensively found, constantly encountered, and wide-spread universally, in every proton, is just incredible. Hence, for nature, and every defined cellular life, and particle; that acknowledges the same.

Every bit of nature, does not need schooling, to acknowledge a Maker God. Or that there is a First life, that begun all. Supreme in nature, and of a Great Architect, in consistency. A Maker God, who has declared its non-physical part, emotion, and character. Truly spirit, birthed into matter. That all of nature be in harmony, in correspondence, and communicate, with the Maker directly. Both, being part of nature. From a determined lifespan, and into a limitless capacity. Originating from a divine source. Hence, the birth of a trinity.

To explain, and reason this theory. We need to assimilate some information, ideas, culture, and understand fully, all possibility. We need not look further, than certain aspects of humankind, in brief.

Humankind, cannot make anything. They can however, take what is present and create wonderful things, or destructiveness, purely by choice. The question is, what drives us, to make these choices, and why.

Because we dare to have thoughts, and dream. Dreams, visions, and prophecies, or spoken words, drive our minds choices. Consciously or sub-consciously. They stir our emotions, and coax our soul into action. Emotions may have their root in neurochemistry, because they are related to such. And are, stored, and retrieved in grey matter. These exhibit a frequency, a vibration, and a movement. Then they are, recorded as energy patterns.

So, then the decipher, such a language, correctly. Can lead us down exalted paths. A message from God. Or from the collective; great ocean of consciousness. Pure in intent, and often soiled by humankind. A way to correspond, with God. A way to communicate, peace, oneness, and fellowship, with nature. Hence with God.

In the above statements we can see, that, the non-physical part of God, and a person. Their soul, or the essence of their spirit, is a force. Where an energy is, defined as a visible force. That drives matter, and spirit meet. Spirit into matter. Part of the design, of the Grand Architect.

It may come as a surprise, then, that the entire cosmos's is God. Represented by a spirit, a force, and an energy. Birthed into proton, particle, matter. Defined as the whole of nature. From which all life exits, has purpose, and returns.

Related in allegory; I can view the cosmic environment as, a vast lake. That keeps all consciousness. To the end, of which, we can tap into, correspond, communicate, and align ourselves with, by choice. And to be part of.

Hence, for the following reasons. Anything, that is dual of nature, in an environment. Within any, proton, particle, matter, or part of nature, can multiply or divide by itself. Anything that is of, a trinity in nature, can only add, or subtract, to itself. By means of, alignment, correspond, and communication. Within that same environment. This brings to attention, and gives priority, to the importance of God's presence. And our choices, of self, and our alignment.

Then it is true, that the Maker God, is truly, omniscient, omnipotent, omnipresent. And is one God, being of three different aspects. Within Nature

There remains, no more myth. Just the capacity, of the reasoning mind. That has come about by, mankind's pure observation only. All that remains, is to discover, to define, and align ourselves, to each other, and all of nature. Thereby, to the One God.

By Raymond Peter Luke

www.qibp.co.za