

Rare Moments

To gaze upon the soul, is to glimpse, a rare moment. That captures, the thought of the heart. To listen to these intense passions, of the soul, is to follow the dreams of the heart. We are, heartened, by these promises, driven by these emotions. We are, stirred, by these visions, that have deep meaning. By dreams that need completing. By our pure love, that needs expressing. Then truly we live, and everything else follows.
