

The Matrix

We seek outside the unknown that is, found inside of us. Very few individuals seek enlightenment of self. That we come to understand. That this love of self is, not the focus of the object, or, dependent of the person. That it is merely a state of being. That the self-delivers, our state of being, unto another. By the means, of an energy field, the surrounds our bodies, or flux. We project this field, by means of a rhythm and pulse, from the heart. This will find, resonate, and bond within the matrix, or "great ocean", with its matched pair. Hence the flow of Self, that manifests, its energy, vibration, and frequency.
