

The Key

The journey begins in the present act, pleased to meet and to share life.

I bring with four keys. The key of Life. The key of Knowledge, and duality. The key of Choice. And the Key of Change.

Such keys are, Paired and unceasingly used. Consider that the key of life, has five fingers, a stem, and a ring.

The first finger represents respect. The second finger, truth. The third finger, brotherly love. The fourth finger, relief. The fifth finger, revive. Held together by a stem of steadfastness, and bound to a ring of unity.

Entrusted we are all keepers of such keys. Wise use and great care, are always a good thing. I nearer myself to your ear, with the key of life. And unlock the door, to your exalted, life giving and living soul.

May I step in to your adobe. And share an understanding so powerful, that our Brotherly love fill this chalice. From labour to profit to rest. I welcome and thank you, for the relief, from a deep hunger and thirst.

Sitting around the table in discussion, of ethos, pathos, and logos. Therefor we are, charged with a quest, and intent of claiming principle only. Let us, raise this chalice in remission. To the potential growth of life, and salutations.

That we depart - invigorated in Spirit. Sorry to part, Happy to meet again.

By Raymond Peter Luke

www.qip.co.za