

The next person

We should always, grant the next person an opportunity to express their opinions. Their faith, their ideas, their perspectives, their theory, and philosophy.

We therefore need to be in constant respectful discussions. And we should apply the necessary to our daily lives. Progressing as a society together, relevant to the period, time, and place.

This fact is, illuminated by conceived political and religious and societal, cultural, and convictions of self.

Such exercised tolerance, is, needed. To be a champion of mental health. To stimulate the mind, and provoke thought. A landscaper of spirituality. An influencer, and keeper of balance. To encourage change and constant growth. Defining the structure of regularly organized society. Toward a more excellent world.

In these small actions, that is part of everyone. Who is part of nature. Does a window open to the soul. Then, the spirit of the creator reveals itself. To create, to form, to define, and to refine. After its nature and consistency's.

Are you, the next person, this creator?

By
Raymond Peter Luke

www.qibp.co.za