

Luminary containment

The slow revelation, of most mysteries. Of knowledge, and acts, normally rest with a few learned-ed individuals. Found within established societies or organizations, or a monarchy. With added reference to - and acceptance of its unwavering own, within the various disciplines. And its exclusiveness.

The enlightenment as to the content, needs much thought. And many more engaged discussions. Thereafter this comes with a cost, and a willingness to work.

That most individual's shy away from. Due to the fact, that change and personal growth are, a prerequisite. The requirement is, that old and familiar territory, and comforts are, left behind. For a new refreshing dedicated life.

Hence the Achilles-heel driven by the ridged nature of a society. That eventually teaches safety. Usually by idiom peculiar to a language. Driven normally by, ignorance, and assumptions. Ridicule, accusation, and fear. That drives a psycho-logical threshold, of mass conformity.

Therefore, the beast feeds off the fabric of a society. The fabric is, those who are, complacent, and lazy. Unconcerned, and self-kept by ignorance. A society that is, entertained and rewarded as such. Whose entitlement, does not match the cries of self-pity.

Guided into a role. That otherwise, under other circumstances, and environmental variance's, life would be, different. So, each one makes choice. Each one learns, that rights, have equal responsibilities. To self, to fellow man, and to nature.
